

Are you looking for Great / Exciting Summer activities

Then why not join the:

The Schoharie River Center Freshwater Ecology Summer Adventure Program

A five-day ecology adventure program for youth ages 11—15

July 26—30, August 3— 7, or August 9—13th

8 am—4 pm beginning and ending at the Environmental Study Team Center in Schenectady, NY. Enrollment limited to 10 youth per week.

Each day you will: hike, swim, canoe, sail or bike at a variety of freshwater ecosystems including the Schoharie Creek, Normanskill, Mohawk River, and Schroon Lake.

You will:

- learn about local fresh water ecology through conducting field research.
- collect macro invertebrates and learn about their habitat.
- learn how to use digital and video cameras
- learn how to read a map and compass and use a GPS
- make friends, have fun, and get wet.

Cost: $250.00 per week
